In India they are highly esteemed for the properties remarked in America, and for their valuable sanative power in all diseases arising from weakness of the digestive organs.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 10.

CONSOLS in London yesterday were ⅛ higher at 99⅜, French Rentes unchanged at 121. Enfaced Rupee Paper, as quoted by Reuter, showed a decline of ⅛ in Fours and ¼ in Fours-and-a-half, the quotations being 84¼ and 91¼ respectively. The 3½ per cent. Sterling Loan is ⅛ higher at 102¼. A further payment of £150,000 into the Bank of England is advised, but against this a withdrawal of £100,000 for North America has taken place. In the meantime rates of discount remain unaltered. Oriental Bank shares are quoted £1 and Mercantile 10s. lower.

Metals show no change, and General Produce is unaltered. Wheat is reported weaker and partially lower to arrive.

The Manchester Piece-goods market yesterday closed dull, and regarding Cotton in Liverpool the advices received to-day have been the most discouraging we have yet had this season. Reuter's report is depressed, sales 7,000 bales, spot prices 1-16d. lower all round expect in Hingunghaut, Broach, and Ginned Dharwar. American arrivals he calls 1-16d. to 3-32d. lower, Surats to arrive unchanged; but private messages give a general fall of ⅛d. in arrivals, with an amount of depression prevalent almost equivalent to a panic. In New York ready Mid. Uplands were ¼ lower at 11 1-16 cents, and June shipment 7 points lower at 10·95 cents per lb. The receipts at the ports continue heavy, the following being the comparison to date :—

	1881.	1880.	1879.
Wednesday's receipts	19,000	7,000	8,000
Five days' do.	93,000	40,000	54,000
Total since 1st Sept.	4,734,000	4,329,000	3,960,000

It is reported to-day that telegrams have been received from Calcutta advising the suspension of Messrs. Rushton Bros., a firm which has hitherto done a considerable export business from that city. A small army agency firm in Bombay is also said to have gone into liquidation.

At the weekly bidding for Council drafts on India in London yesterday, the sum of Rs. 29,60,000 was allotted on Calcutta, Rs. 1,00,000 on Madras, and Rs. 14,40,000 on Bombay at an average of 1s. 8 1-16d., tenders at that rate receiving 16 per cent. This is the same result as last week, and about what was generally anticipated here yesterday. Reuter confirms the quotation of 52⅞d. for Bar Silver received in private messages yesterday, but it is noticeable that no shipments of the metal are advised by yesterday's P. and O. steamer from Southampton.

EXCHANGE this morning opened firm at 1s. 8 1-16d. for demand Bank drafts and 1s. 8⅞d. for three months' Credits, and notwithstanding comparatively quiet advices from Calcutta, these figures were maintained until very late in the day. Just before closing, however, business was done in Private Paper at a decline of 1-16d., and the market may therefore be called quiet and tending easier. Rates are :—

Bank Bills on demand		1s. 8 1-16d.	per rupee.
Do.	telegraphic	1s. 8 1-32d.	,,
Do.	3 months' sight ..	1s. 7 32d.	,,
Credits,	3 ,, ,,	1s. 8 3-16d.	,,
Documents,	3 ,, ,,	1s. 8 3-8d.	,,
Francs,	3 ,, ,,	2f. 15c.	,,

On Calcutta we still quote demand drafts at par, but 60 days' sight have recovered to ⅛ per cent. discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER continues very steady at the top rates of yesterday, say, Fours Rs. 100⅛ ; Fours-and-a-half, Rs. 109¾. There are buyers but few sellers at these figures.

SHARES, although not particularly active, are firm. Banks and Land Companies are unchanged, and in Press shares the only movement to notice is a recovery of Rs. 50 in Sassoons. Spinning and Weaving Mill shares are all very firm, and a general improvement of Rs. 5 to Rs. 10 per share may be quoted. Bombay-Burmah Trading Co.'s shares are again Rs. 25 higher at Rs. 2,125.

IN COTTON we have had another very irregular market. Opening very weak with a decline of Rs. 3 per candy, it seemed at first as if there was some remote chance of prices receding to about level with home currencies. The fall, however, brought out numerous buyers, and before the close a great portion of the decline had been recovered in most descriptions, whilst for Broach even higher than yesterday's prices were paid. A very large business has been done, probably not less one way and another than 5,000 bales ; and at the close the market closed with few sellers and a very firm feeling. We now quote :—

Good Omra, March	delivery	Rs. 199	per candy.
F. G. F.	,, ,,	,, ...	,, 183	,,
G. F.	,, ,,	,, ...	,, 173	,,
Good Broach,	,, ,,	,, ...	,, 222	,,
Good Dhollera, April	,, ,,	,, ...	,, 193	,,
F. G. F.	,, ,,	,, ...	,, 183	,,
G. F.	,, ,,	,, ...	,, 173	,,

IN SEEDS and WHEAT there is no quotable movement.

FREIGHTS are practically unaltered. For Liverpool the ready rate is still 26s. 3d., but there is no great disposition on the part of agents to book beyond this month's shipment.

PIECE-GOODS continue quiet. The business passing is on the same limited scale, and prices are unchanged.

COALS are quiet at former rates, both ready and to arrive.

THE BOMBAY VOLUNTEER RIFLE CORPS.

REGIMENTAL ORDERS
BY LIEUT.-COL. COMMANDANT W. S. HEWETT.
Bombay, March 10, 1881.

1. The Commandant has with much regret received an application from Captain T. S. Weir to be allowed to resign his post of Captain in the Bombay Volunteers, the more so as the same has been necessitated by an accident his arm received a few months ago, from the effects of which he is still suffering. Application will be made to Government for the necessary sanction. Captain Weir has commanded the F Company ever since the formation of the Corps now over three and a half years, and has been a good and efficient officer and a worthy member of the Corps. At Captain Weir's request his name will continue to be borne on the strength of the Regiment as an honorary member.

2. Lieut. G. Manson having tendered his resignation of his commission in the Bombay Volunteer Rifle Corps, the same will be forwarded to Government for sanction. The Commandant regrets that ill-health and press of work in connection with his official duties have necessitated this step on the part of Lieut. Manson, who has at all times proved himself a good and zealous officer.

3. The Regiment will parade under the Commandant at 4-45 p.m. on Saturday next, the 12th instant, at the Town Hall. Red uniform, helmets, arms and accoutrements to be worn at this parade. Fifteen rounds of blank ammunition to be issued per men.

By order, A. W. PROUDFOOT,
Lieut. and Adjt., B. V. R. C.

FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 1881.

IN considering the probable result of the proposed Bi-metallic Conference, it is quite unnecessary to assume, as some mono-metallists profess to do (1) that no result can be anticipated unless all the leading commercial nations agree ; (2) that bi-metallism, if adopted, will necessarily put a fictitious value on silver ; (3) that because England is sure to adhere to mono-metallism herself, she can do nothing to assist bi-metallism ; and (4) finally, that what theory teaches must necessarily result in practice. That England would give up her gold currency for any other we do not for a moment expect, and that Germany will again return to gold and silver is not reasonably to be anticipated ; but the world used gold and silver, and they were maintained at a uniform ratio before without the assistance of England, and we fail to see why the same should not now be done without the assistance of England and Germany. Let France and the United States declare that they will coin silver at the old ratio of 15½ to 1 of gold in such quantities as may be offered—and in this they will be joined by Italy, Austria, and Russia, though the support of these Powers will perhaps be only nominal for a time—and silver will at once take its old place in its relation to gold

AYOUB KHAN AND THE BRITISH.

The Marquis of Hartington's remarks in reference to Ayoub Khan were, it appears, reported incorrectly. His Lordship, in reply to a question, said that Ayoub's Envoy had arrived at Kandahar and had been courteously received. He was not aware, however, that anything tantamount to negotiations had been opened with him. His Lordship said that it was inexpedient to make any further statement on the subject at present.

ENGLAND AND THE SILVER QUESTION.

The Marquis of Hartington, in replying to a deputation which waited upon him, said that Government had received an invitation to attend the Bi-metallic Conference in Paris, but as the terms of the invitation apparently pledged the acceptors to adopt a bi-metallic standard, the acceptance of the invitation has been deferred until the terms of it are modified. His Lordship said the British Government will take no part in a conference which assumed a willingness to abandon the gold standard.

With these reserves, both the British Government and the Government of India were quite willing to adopt safe and prudent measures to restore silver to its former value.

Several native gentlemen of Bombay were also present at the bunder.

MR. J. R. NAYLOR Remembrancer of Legal Affairs, has allowed furlough out of India for eight months from the 14th April next.

IN our account of the Governor's visit to Rutnagiri a misprint occurred, by which Mr. Lyon was spoken of as Judge of that place. The name should have been Mr. C. B. Izon. Mr. Lyon, who was some time ago an Assistant Judge at Rutnagiri, and who also acted as Judge there for a short time, died, we believe, either in England, or on his way to England, about 1875.

H. M.'s FLAGSHIP EURYALUS arrived at Aguada (Goa) on the 28th February. SENHOR J. F. DE ASSA, Director of Public Works at Goa, has been deputed to fix marks, in conjunction with the Political Agent of Sawuntwari, on the boundaries separating Sawuntwari from Goa.

IT is likely, we understand, that Mr. W. Chichele-Plowden, Census Commissioner, will make a tour to Madras and Bombay, prior to going to Simla to write his report on the Indian census. He will thus be able to form an exact opinion of the work done in the three presidencies.

AT a sitting of the High Court, Appellate Side, on Wednesday last, Mr. Justice Melvill and Mr. Justice Nanabhai Haridas reversed a sentence of death passed on the 9th ult. on Chintamon Govind Paranjpe by Mr. W. M. P. Coghlan, Sessions Judge of Tanna. He and a friend of his were charged with the murder of his adoptive father, Govind Appajee Paranjpe; while his mother-in-law was charged with having caused evidence of the murder to disappear. Chintamon made a confession before the committing magistrate, to the effect that he had money disputes with his adoptive father, and that by the advice of his friend, the second prisoner, he agreed to kill him. A plan was arranged in order to divert suspicion from Chintamon. He left his own native place, Revdanda, ostensibly to go to Dewas, near Indore; but he came only as far as Bombay, where he wrote a letter to the second prisoner and gave it at the railway station to a stranger to post for him. He returned to Revdanda by the ferry from Bombay, and went at night to the second prisoner's house and thence to his own, where he met his wife and his mother-in-law, the third prisoner. The second prisoner called for him, and they then went to the deceased's house and found him asleep on the veranda. The second prisoner threw a gunny-bag on the deceased's face and struck him two or three blows with an iron pestle. Chintamon then went to Dewas, where he was arrested by the police and brought to the place of the murder. Before the Sessions Judge he withdrew his confession and called three witnesses to establish an alibi. The confessions of Chintamon were, to the mind of the Sessions Judge, conclusive of his guilt, and he saw no reason whatever to doubt that they were voluntary or true; while, on the other hand, he felt compelled to discredit the evidence for the defence. Differing from the assessors, Mr. Coghlan found Chintamon guilty of murder and sentenced him to death, acquitting the other two prisoners, who were discharged. Their Lordships however, dissented from Mr. Coghlan's finding and reversed the conviction and sentence.

THE district season-reports of the Bombay presidency for the week ended the 5th inst. are officially summarised as follows:—Slight rain in parts of Sind and Gujarat, and weather cloudy. Rabi harvesting proceeds. Corps good, excepting exotic cotton in Dharwar.

THE first numbers of a new daily paper, the Bangalore Daily Post, have appeared. It is a well arranged paper, and compares favourably with the other journals Published in Bangalore.

THE new Merchant Shipping Bill contains many provisions for the protection of native seamen which the Bombay Samachar regards with unqualified approval. In the opinion of the paper, these poor seamen have been hitherto exposed to various hardships in one form or another, and the measure to remedy the grievance has not come too soon. But that it has come, and in such an adequate and complete manner is something for which the Samachar thinks the Indian public ought to feel sincerely grateful.

IT would seem that a considerable body of the inhabitants of Bombay feel discontented at their exclusion from the swimming-bath in Back Bay which some European residents purpose erecting. To them the Rast Goftar gives very good counsel as follows. Did these grumblers, the paper asks, ever think of having such a bath for themselves? And if they did, wasn't their slovenliness in not seeking to put their thought into action more reprehensible? Then why grumble simply because their more active neighbours have been up and doing? It is at the best selfishness, and their exclusion from the benefits of the result of the energy of their European co-residents is certainly lawful, if not morally justifiable too. It is not too late yet to imitate the example that has been set them under their very nose; but the false notions of respectability preventing them from improving their minds and bodies by healthy exercise, with which native gentlemen as a class are afflicted, make the Rast Goftar relinquish all hope that the good example will be followed.

ON the telegram announcing the acquittal of Major Currie, the Pioneer remarks:—Until the full report of the trial has been published, any lengthy comment is impossible; there is at present only the inference that by the acquittal of Major Currie the blame for the disaster of Maiwand must now rest still more heavily on those who really deserve it. Whether they will suffer more, or even as much, inconvenience as Major Currie has been put to, remains to be seen. Not a few of our readers, perhaps, have looked on this court-martial with impatience, convinced that, whether it acquitted or punished the two officers concerned, the real causes of the defeat at Maiwand—cum fracta virtus et minaces turpe solum tetigere mento—would be left alone.

THE Indian Herald considers "the verdict will give general satisfaction, for the evidence for the prosecution has shown very clearly that Major Currie is in no sense responsible for the catastrophe with which his name is so intimately associated. We congratulate him on having once more received his sword, and with it we trust the renewal of public confidence in his soldierly honour and personal courage."

THE Pioneer relates the following story:—When General MacGregor, in his Marri expedition, so arranged the movement of his troops that Mehrula Khan found that Kahan, the chief town, was at the mercy of the British in a very few days; when within two days' march of Kahan, Mehrula Khan, the chief of the Marris, came to see what terms could be arranged, he was told that the troops were about to close in upon Kahan, and that Government demanded a heavy fine and the surrender of hostages. General MacGregor, believing plain speech always has the best effect upon Asiatics, then "summed up" the position in a speech so delightfully pithy and characteristic that it should not be lost. He said:—"I have now read to you the orders of Government in regard to the terms which they have been pleased to require from you. I have also told you what I mean to do, and I have now only got to say this—You must give me a straightforward answer, 'Yes' or 'No,' in an hour. You must either fight, or obey the orders of the Government. Myself, I do not care much which you do; the troops will be very glad if you fight, and so shall I. Now go away and settle matters." It is almost needless to say that the Marri chiefs said "Yes," and made their submission within the required time. This healthy tone, bluff and to the point, might well be adopted more generally in dealing with lawless tribes on our frontiers. But the bluff tone did not prove altogether sufficient. It extracted the promise, but did not secure fulfilment, which it will be remembered Sir R. Sandeman had to adopt other means to bring about.

THE King of the Sandwich Isles is expected to pay India a visit shortly. He has left Hawaii for San Francisco, and is thence coming, viâ Japan, China, and the Straits, to Ceylon. Then he will embark for Calcutta, calling at Madras on the way; and from Calcutta he will come overland to Bombay, and thence, through the Suez Canal to Italy, France, England, the United States, and so home again. His Majesty speaks English fluently. He is accompanied by Mr. Armstrong, his Attorney-General, and Colonel Judd, his Chamberlain. His tour is partly prompted by a desire to ascertain the best quarter from which he can draw labour, to supply the place of the indigenous population in the Isles. The Sandwich Islanders are being effaced by leprosy and other diseases. The islands could easily support a million people, but at present the population is only 60,000.

WHAT a pity it is, the Pioneer remarks, that the Gazette of India, which reports the proceedings of the Legislative Council, does not also supply a critique on them by an outsider. In England the morning papers always criticise the preceding night's debates, however late or prolonged; but this very salutary check is by no means so regularly or systematically applied to a Council where free-thought is extinct, and where some admission of public opinion is so much more urgently required. Look at the so-called debates of the 25th ultimo about the proposed revision of the Criminal Procedure Code, a measure of which the importance can hardly be exaggerated. To take up only the low ground of mere cost, let a calculation be made of the enormous amount of printing and writing and reading that the proposal involves, and then let this cost in time and money be counted. The public will think it a very happy omen for the ensuing Budget that the Financial Member has so much money to spare on "symmetry." It is a sad sign of the times that Sir Ashley Eden was alone in his appeal to common-sense and in his consequent opposition to the Legal Member. . . . Of course it will be hard if one gentleman's many months' work and another gentleman's exhaustive précis are thrown away; but the further question arises, whether we can afford these literary luxuries at the cost of starved roads and railways, extra taxation, and repeated loans. To abolish the Public Works Member on the score of economy and to retain the Legal Member, who has time to shower upon us Acts that we do not want and to repeal those we do, is hardly consistent; and the importance of the subject warrants the hope that the discussion, even at this stage, will not be confined to the Legislative Council.

THE Bombay correspondent of the Pioneer writes:—Your readers will be glad to hear that there is a movement on foot to get the departure of the mail-steamers delayed until 7 p.m. To those leaving this it will be a decided advantage to embark in the comparative cool of the evening instead of the heat of the afternoon. As regards our Thursday-departure, I am afraid that we have been disappointed already as to its effect upon the volunteer movement, for it does not seem to have thrown that new life into it which we anticipated would result from the Saturday half-holiday.

A REMARKABLE discovery has been made by Mr. Alex. Adams, one of the technical officers of the Post-Office Telegraph Department. It is the existence of electric tides in telegraph circuits. By long-continued and careful observations he has determined distinct variations of strength in those earth currents, which are invariably present on all telegraphic wires, following the different diurnal positions of the moon with respect to the earth. He read a paper on the subject at the meeting of the Society of Telegraph Engineers.

SIR GEORGE COLLEY's defeat and the battle of Ingogo, "T. T.," of Truth writes, are deathblows to scientific soldiering. Untrained, undisciplined, and with no Staff College theorists to guide their movements, the Boers have proved themselves thoroughly our match. When I see that their strategy and tactics are not one whit inferior to ours, I begin to think that the science of war is after all but a matter of common-sense, and not a thing to be best gained in a class-room. Perhaps the German-systemphiles in this country will now begin to understand that an officer is better employed in teaching his men to hold their rifles straight than in working out the equation of the curve along which the bullet passes. The description of the carnage among the artillerymen, and of the way the bullets rattled on the guns, almost points to the extinction of that arm under its present conditions. I do not profess to be learned in military matters, but surely those employed in loading a gun would be less exposed if it were constructed on the breach-loading system. I fancy, too, that in this case it would be possible to attach to the carriage some kind of bullet-proof shield, behind which the gun could be entirely worked.

H. E. THE GOVERNOR ON TOUR.

ON the morning of Sunday, the 6th instant, His Excellency the Governor and party attended divine service at Rutnaghiri, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Wood, and at noon started on horseback for Amba, being accompanied to Pali by Mr. Kennedy, Superintendent of Police in the Rutnaghiri collectorate. The distance from Rutnaghiri to Amba is about forty miles. The road for the first ten miles is of a flinty hardness, traversing a pure laterite formation which is almost devoid of vegetation. The country bordering the sea is gently undulating, very sparsely wooded, rather barren in aspect, and uninteresting; but as you approach the ghats, the ground becomes more uneven, more deeply intersected with ravines, tolerably well interspersed with trees, and very pretty spots in rapid succession greet the eye with pleasing effect. The heat experienced during the first four hours of the journey was considerable, and its effect was intensified by the fact that the wind corresponded with the direction travelled. But by the time His Excellency reached the foot of the ghat, the afternoon was so far spent as to enable the ascent to be made with coolness and comfort. The Ambaghat-road is already easily practicable for riding, and will most likely be opened for wheeled conveyance in the course of the year. When finished, it will doubtless be one of the finest and most picturesque roads in India. Its alignment is most excellent, rising in a distance of fourteen miles to a height of 1,500 feet, without exceeding a gradient of one in nineteen at any point. It skirts the opposing slopes of the different spurs as it ascends, and so connects them as to resemble—and here and there actually becomes—a watershed. From the fifth mile upwards to the top of the ghat the eye wanders from the crest of towering crag above to the forest-clad slope and bottom of the lovely valley below with grateful and admiring appreciation. Now on the right hand, and then on the left, these lovely views are presented, and leave a most pleasing impression.

Half way up the ghat Mr. Campbell, the engineer in charge of the work, met the Governor, and accompanied His Excellency to the top, which ends in a fine cutting through the uppermost crest of the mountain chain. In this cutting several springs of good water were discovered, and His Excellency directed that the water should be conducted down the ghat, and thus be available at different points for the comfort of travellers and their cattle. This will be a boon to waylarers of the future by this route, which only those who are accustomed to marching in the East can duly appreciate.

At the top of the ghat Colonel Parr, Political Agent in Kolhapur, received the Governor and conducted His Excellency and party to the camp, close by, which had been pitched for the purpose. The ride thus concluded, though only a distance of 42 miles, was not a little trying on account of the great heat of the first four hours. The dry, cool atmosphere at the top was most grateful to the senses after the damp heat experienced on the plain; and this enhanced the appreciation of the good things which Colonel Parr had kindly provided for the entertainment of his guests. An early start was made on the morning of the 7th on horseback for Kolhapur, which was reached by eleven o'clock, the distance being somewhat over forty miles. At Mulkapore, twelve miles from Amba, His Excellency inspected the bridge in course of erection there, and received garlands, &c., from the contractor. At a point some ten miles from Kolhapur, Mr. Barve, C. S. I., Karbharee of the State, met the Governor, and drove with His Excellency the remainder of the way. At different points between the sixth and third mile out, the minor chiefs—feudatories of Kolhapur—paid their respects to the Governor, presenting garlands, &c. A little further on His Excellency was received by the members of the Kolhapur Municipality and the following gentlemen:—Colonel Baumgartner, Assistant Political Agent for the Southern Mahratta country; Major Waller, V. C., Joint Magistrate of Sangli; Dr. Sinclair, Civil Surgeon of Kolhapur; Lieutenant Ferris, 2nd-in-Command of the Kolhapur Infantry; Mr. Shannon, State Executive Engineer; Mr. Parsick, Assistant Engineer; Mr. Candy, Principal of the Rajaram College; and Mr. Khelkar, Karbharee of Miraj. His Excellency was received in a small shamiana, and the above gentlemen having been introduced to the Chairman of the Municipality read the following address:—

May it please your Excellency,—We, the members of the Kolhapur Municipality, beg to approach your Excellency to respectfully welcome you to our town, and embrace this opportunity to express to your Excellency, as the representative, in the Western Presidency of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen-Empress of India, our heartfelt gratitude for the great care and solicitude with which the British Government have as guardians of His Highness the Maharaja of Kolhapur conducted the administration of this State during his minority.

2. We are fully conscious of the many advantages which have accrued to the State and its subjects from the present administration. Regular courts have been established to deal out justice. Provision is made for instructing the masses, there being at present about 150 schools in the district. The Rajaram High School in the town has been recently converted into a Provincial College. School-houses and dharmashalas have been built in various towns and villages; roads have been constructed and rivers and streams bridged over, thus enabling the villager to take his produce for sale to the town market or elsewhere. Above all, the improvement in the appearance of this town is most conspicuous. The old narrow and filthy streets are now, in most parts of the town, to wide and well-made roads, having better ventilation. Cleanliness and conservation have materially improved the sanitation of the town.

3. Large and ornamental buildings, such as the Rajaram College and the Town Hall, have been constructed, which make Kolhapur one of the centres of attraction in the Bombay Presidency. A large palace for His Highness, the foundation-stone of which was laid by your Excellency's predecessor in office, is in course of construction, and is designed to be in point of artistic excellence superior to any other building on this side of India. A hospital, to be designated the Prince of Wales' Hospital, in honour of His Royal Highness' visit to this country, is shortly to be built on a grand scale. For these benefits we assure your Excellency that we are thankful indirectly to Her Majesty's Government, and directly to the zeal and ability of the successive Political Officers into whose hands are to whose care the affairs of this State have been placed and entrusted.

4. We very much regret that His Highness the Maharaja on this important occasion of your Excellency's visit to his capital should have been absent, and we much more regret the cause that detains him from home. We are, however, most thankful for the tender and paternal care shown by your Excellency's Government to His Highness during his present protracted illness, the measures taken for counteracting and removing his malady will, we heartily hope, perfectly cure him.

5. In conclusion, we beg most humbly and earnestly to submit that the recent foolish attempt at conspiracy is in no way an index to the minds of the people of Kolhapur, who, we assure your Excellency, continue unabated in their feeling of loyalty to the Paramount Power, and we would pray your Excellency to believe that the misguided few are in no sense representatives of the people.

The purport of His Excellency's reply was as follows:—He was grateful for the kindly welcome he received from the Kolhapur Municipality. It was the wish of the Queen-Empress that all under Her Majesty's sway should enjoy prosperity, and His Excellency was glad to find that under the able administration of the political officers in charge during successive minorities, Kolhapur had thriven so remarkably that it was now in all respects abreast with the territories directly under the rule of Government. His Excellency had just come along a road in course of construction, which, with its bridges and culverts, promised to be an excellent thoroughfare. He was aware that some of the native gentlemen he was addressing had the honour and credit of assisting in the improvements which had been so largely made in the State, and it must be a satisfaction to them now to witness the bright outcome of their labours. They had alluded to a circumstance which had recently caused considerable sensation wherever Indian newspapers were read, viz., the misdemeanour for which a few misguided men had just been tried and sentenced. Now, His Excellency was well aware that nowhere was less importance attached to this matter than in Kolhapur itself. Nor did it ever seem to him that the case bore other than an insignificant political aspect, but to the general public it had doubtless seemed serious, from the unwarrantably grave colouring given to it in some of the local prints. Probably in all places there are to be found knaves and fools; and when the knaves are punished, the fools cannot be allowed to escape. The machinations of a few mischievous malcontents had thus brought otherwise harmless people into trouble recently in Kolhapur. All, however, was now happily over, and no further insurrectionary molestation was to be apprehended. With regard to the hope they had expressed in respect to the health of the Maharaja, and his early return to Kolhapur, His Excellency was glad to be able to inform them that he had a few days ago received a report from the Surgeon-General stating that His Highness had made remarkable progress, and that there was every probability of his being soon able to return to his capital and take part in the administration of his State. His Highness had received all possible attention during his illness, Government having taken exactly such steps with him as would have been taken with an English prince similarly afflicted; and the result happily had been markedly successful.

No sooner had the Governor resumed his seat in the State-carriage and advanced a few yards, than the Rev. Mr. Taylor and other missionaries presented themselves by the roadside, attended by a number of native pupils, chanting hymns and thus welcoming Sir James to Kolhapur. At Kolhapur His Excellency and party became the guests of Colonel and Mrs. Parr, in the Residency. At 7 a.m. on the 8th instant H. E. the Governor, attended by his staff and Colonel Parr, was present at a parade of the Kolhapur Infantry Corps. The corps were under the command of Lieutenant W. B. Ferris, and received His Excellency in line with a general salute. After breaking into column to the right they marched past, in slow and double time. The drill was then continued for an hour, all the movements being carried out with remarkable steadiness and accuracy. His Excellency complimented their Commandant, Colonel Parr, and Lieutenant Ferris, on the soldierlike and smart appearance of the men. At 8-30 a.m. His Excellency, supported by Mr. Crawford, the political officers, and his personal staff, received in durbar the following chiefs and gentlemen:—

Abdul Dalerkhan Dalerjang Bahadur, Nawab of Sawanur; Vyankatrao Ghorpare, Chief of Mudhol; Dhundirao Chintamon, Chief of Sangli; Gangadhurrao Ganputrao, Chief of Miraj; Ramchandrarao, Chief of Jamkhundi; Chintamanrao, alias Bala Saheb, Chief of Kurundwar, elder branch; Ganputrao, alias Bapu Saheb, Chief of Kurundwar, younger branch; Haribarrao, alias Daji Saheb, Chief of Kurundwar, younger branch; Jaysingrao Ghatje, Chief of Kagal; Narayanrao Ghatje, Chief of Kagal; Nagojirao Patankar; Shree Ramchandra Pandit, alias Baba Maharaj; Narayanrao Rajopandye; Ramchanrarao Joshirao; Abajirao Pant Pratinidhi, Chief of Vishalgarh; Rao Bahadur Mahadao W. At four in the afternoon the Governor, accompanied by Colonel Parr, Mrs. Parr, and Colonel Stacey, paid a visit to the Ranees in the palace, and the interview over, distributed prizes to the pupils of the Kolhapur Girls' School. Five o'clock was the hour fixed for the distribution of prizes to the students of the Rajaram College, and long ere the time arrived the palace-court and the environs of the college presented a picturesque scene, composed of the Kolhapur Infantry forming a guard of honour, with their becoming dark-green uniform, and a motley crowd of natives in multi-coloured costume; the people were evidently determined to make the occasion of the Governor's visit a red-letter day in Kolhapur annals, and accordingly, in gala attire, assembled in force, the better to leave a favourable impression on His Excellency. The college-hall was full to overcrowding, including the different chiefs of the Southern Mahratta country and the European ladies and gentlemen connected with or residing in Kolhapur. The room was tastefully decorated with evergreens, large festoons of varied foliage being suspended from the gallery, and branches of trees disposed elsewhere in keeping with decorative requirements.

The programme began by Mr. Candy, the principal of the college, reading the subjoined report:—

Your Excellency,—I have the honour to read a short report on the progress and condition of the Rajaram College during the past year. Without going into a lengthy or detailed history, I may be allowed, by way of preface, to allude to one or two epochs in the growth of this institution. The English school which this city could boast of many years ago was constituted a high school in the year 1867. After a successful career of thirteen years as a high school, it developed in June, 1880, into a second-grade college affiliated with the Bombay University. At the same time arrangements were set on foot for the education of sirdars in the same institution. It will be seen, therefore, that we have really three departments:—First—the college; second—Sirdars; third High School. I will allude to them briefly in this order.

First,—College—Which opened with eight undergraduates, of whom five were qualified to appear for the previous examination, and two of them passed in the second class. These have both been granted Alfred Scholarships of Rs. 15 a month, and are studying for their degree at the Deccan College. This term we have twenty-one undergraduates, of whom ten are from our own high school, seven come from Belgaum, three from Satara, and one from Kaladgi. Attached to the college are a set of quarters, twenty-two rooms, which are a great boon to students coming from a distance.

I think we may be fully satisfied with the quantity of under-graduates, considering how young the college is; and as they are intelligent and industrious students, I hope that their quality, as shown in the next University Examination, will justify the hopes of those who established the college. I have no doubt our numbers will steadily increase, for the college evidently supplies a want felt in the Southern Mahratta country.

Second,—Sirdars.—At present we have thirteen, of whom four belong to Kolhapur, four come from Dharwar, three from the Southern Mahratta country, one from Sholapore, and one from Belgaum. With the exception of the Raja of Mudhol, who, I fear, will be leaving us shortly, the two others, they are all quite young, and so have plenty of time before them to make that progress of which they give fair promise now. Last term they were taught in the regular college classes during the morning, and in the afternoon in separate classes. As this "half-and half" arrangement did not seem to work well, this term I have proposed that they should be arranged in three separate classes, of which the highest is conducted by myself in English and the professors in other subjects. This arrangement necessitates the employment of an additional master, which has been sanctioned by the Political Agent.

Third.—The High School.—Attendance in March last was 284, and this month it is 301, showing a slight increase of 17. The high school appears to have had a very successful career, having up to this time passed a hundred and twenty-nine pupils at the Matriculation Examination of the Bombay University. Of these, fifty-one proceeded successfully through one or more higher examinations as follows: one M.A., two L.L.B., one L.M., eleven B.A., two L.C.E., nine F.E.A., eleven P.E., two Agricultural test, and two the Forest class.

Two old Rajaram boys, Vasudeorekar and Banhatti, who took Alfred scholarships from this school to the Elphinstone College, gained the highest place at the last Previous Examination and carried off—the former a prize for proficiency in English, and the latter one in Sanskrit.

From our Matriculation class last December thirty appeared for the University Examination, but only ten were successful. This result cannot be called more than fair. But the results of examinations are often unsatisfactory and unaccountable. To this I may state that we held a rigid test examination to decide what students in this class should be allowed to appear. A pupil named Vaze, who passed first in our examination, failed in that of the University; and two who passed in our examination failed in that of the University; and two who failed in ours, but were allowed (luckily) to go up, succeeded in passing. From returns published in the last Government Gazette, we find that Vaze failed in English; of the other three one failed in English only, one in English and second language, and one in English and Euclid.

The late Rajaram Maharaja, in order to commemorate the visit of His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh to India, invested Rs. 45,000 in promissory notes, the proceeds being applied to the formation of scholarships to enable Kolhapur pupils to prosecute higher studies in some one or other of the affiliated colleges of the Bombay University. After his death at Florence, his friends and admirers raised subscriptions, which have been applied to scholarships founded in his name in the High School. These have given a considerable stimulus to industry and regularity in the pupils. The State has established ten exhibitions, to be awarded to ten deserving pupils, one from each of the ten talukas into which the Kolhapur territory is divided, for encouraging English education in the districts. These endowments have exercised a very beneficial influence upon the institution by encouraging boys from the surrounding districts to complete their education here.

We have a good gymnasium, provided with all the necessary apparatus. On my recommendation, the services of a well-qualified Parsee gymnast have been secured, and each class, in turn, is instructed by him for half an hour daily.

But although we have this good gymnasium, for which all ought to be very thankful, we have no such thing as a play-ground. I believe that hardly any boys in Kolhapur play any games—except the sirdars; the latter live at a distance from the town, and have a fairly suitable place for games. The boys of the school have not the time even, if we could expect them, to walk out two miles to join in these games. I am sure every Englishman will agree with me that we are only half-educating Kolhapur boys if we do not actually teach them to play. They require teaching even in this at first, and to enable us to do that we must first have a play-ground. I have suggested to Colonel Parr that the very place for it is the ground which has been set apart for the State Forest Nursery. It is in the town, close to the boys' schools and homes, and would not require a large expenditure to level it and make it fit for cricket and other games. The Nursery, I believe, has not made so much progress that it would be harmed by being started again in some other suitable locality. The play-ground might be used by all the town schools, under the management of a representative committee. I sincerely hope that the State authorities will approve of this suggestion, and allow the plan to be carried out during the next monsoon.

The College Library, which, I am glad to see, is made good use of by the senior students, contains a fair number of useful books, and is being steadily enlarged at an expenditure of Rs. 30 per mensem.

One other suggestion I have to make—that a beginning should be made in the teaching of drawing. I have met here with one or two instances of undoubted talent among boys, and I have no doubt that a great deal of artistic power might be developed and fostered at a small cost. We can obtain a teacher from the J. J. School of Art for Rs. 50 per mensem. For the sirdars especially I think we should make the experiment, so as to encourage in them a taste for healthy amusement for their leisure hours.

Though I always endeavour to think well over every thing before I ask, still I seem to be always asking; and I beg here to tender my grateful acknowledgment to Colonel Parr and the State authorities for the kind and ready way in which they have received my suggestions and complied with them. Under such good auspicies, and in such a favourable position, surely without being called over-sanguine we may boldly hope for a career of increasing prosperity. That will depend on the exertions not of one, but of all. I have to thank Mr. Wakharkar, the Vice-Principal, the professors, and the rest of the staff for their able and willing co-operation in our work.

In conclusion, I beg to offer your Excellency the thanks of all, masters and boys, for the honour you have conferred on us by being present here to-day.

Then followed a series of recitations by some young chiefs and others now under instruction. His Excellency now distributed the prizes to the most successful pupils; this done, Sir James made a speech, the purport of which was something to the following effect:—

His Excellency felt honoured in presiding on such an auspicious occasion; and rejoiced to find the Rajaram College an institution of such approved and well-sustained usefulness, and gratified to see the Southern Mahratta chiefs testifying by their presence to the interest they took in promoting by sound education the welfare of the rising generation. Government warmly supported the cause of education, and hoped, by its diffusion amongst the natives of this country, to ally them still more closely to the Imperial Throne, and to enhance their own condition of life. His Excellency now heartily congratulated Mr. Candy and the College staff on the success of their labours, remarking that the lusty applause with which the pupils greeted their principal clearly showed that he had won their hearts by the kind discharge of his tutorial duties. This was the very acme of success in teaching. And His Excellency hoped that Mr. Candy's very reasonable request as to a play-ground would receive favourable consideration. His Excellency was happy to know that his friends of the Rajaram College were already fond of games and indulged in manly amusements. They had seen what good had already accrued on the establishment of the Rajcoomar College at Rajcote and their own College in Kolhapur; and His Excellency hoped that by and bye they would follow the good example of their brother chiefs and nobles of Kathiawar, by contributing funds towards the development in the required direction of this their alma mater.

His Excellency's speech was warmly cheered at the conclusion, and the plaudits became vociferous, when Mr. Candy called for "three cheers for Sir James Fergusson." Then followed cheers for Colonel and Mrs. Parr, the Maharanee, and Mr. Candy; and the ceremony thus concluded.

THE CALCUTTA PORT COMMISSION.—We believe, says the Englishman, that the Port Commissioners in considering their budget at their last meeting, set aside about a lakh and a half of rupees for the reduction of port dues and jetty charges. The concession comes tardily, but is substantial, and is, we trust, the precursor of others. Meanwhile, we think we may congratulate both the Commissioners and the public upon the result. It comes, we may add, opportunely, as the experience of both Chairman (Mr. Buckland) and Vice-Chairman (Mr. Bruce) will be available for the proper distribution of the relief before they leave us. This is a matter of much importance, and we trust that competing claims will be very carefully weighed.

TIGER SLAYING AT VENCATAGIRI.—At about 8 o'clock on the morning of the 2nd instant news was brought to His Highness the Raja of Vencatagiri that a buffaloe had been killed by a tiger in the forest on the west of Vencatagiri. His Highness lost no time in starting with his suite. The hunters, including the Raja, formed a semicircle in the forest, and orders were given to the drivers to make a search. As the circle of hunters was drawing close, the tigress put in her appearance before one of the hunter, who at once fired, but missed. A second hunter had the same ill-luck, and the tigress was running for dear life, when a third hunter fired, and brought her down dead, the ball passing from the left to the right side of the neck. A procession was then formed, and the carcase brought into the town, after being carried through the streets with bands of music and discharges of firearms.—Mail.

WATERLOO COURSING MEETING.

THE CUP, PURSE, AND PLATE.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 18.

THERE was a tremendous crowd of people present at Altcar to-day to witness the deciding courses of the Waterloo Cup. The meet was at Church House at ten o'clock, and a start was made about half an hour later on the meadows, which stretch from the end church to the Engine House corner. Fine weather prevailed, and the business concluded by twelve o'clock. Cui Bono was most decisively beaten by Bishop, and as Princess Dagmar was equal to polishing off Vindictive, the decide was left between the Princess and the Bishop. Odds of 5 to 4 were laid on the bitch, who led and won well; indeed, it is quite likely that the Cup was never won in a more decided fashion than in this case. Princess Dagmar ran in the nomination of Mr. Millar, who won the event two years ago with Misterton. Mr. Postle, the owner of Princess Dagmar, and Mr. Millar were loudly cheered as they walked up the field, the breeder carrying the hare which the bitch had killed.

Fifth Round.

Bishop beat Cui Bono.
Princess Dagmar beat Vindictive.

It was a grand race up between Bishop and Cui Bono, but Bishop got first to a rare hare, which he turned, and went on for some strong work before Cui Bono got placed for a couple of wrenches, Bishop was soon in again, however, and although Cui Bono was able to exchange a few, Bishop was a very handsome winner, when the kill was effected. In a capital slip the Princess led four lengths, wrenched, and killed; a smart performance.

DECIDING COURSE.

E—Mr. H. G. Miller ns (Mr. J. S. Postle's) w bd l Princess Dagmar, by Ptarmigan—Gallant Foe, beat
E—Mr. T. Brocklebank's bd d Bishop, by Barleycorn—Daffodil,

And won the Cup.

To a beautiful slip the Princess Dagmar led Bishop between two or three lengths, and, after letting him in for one or two points, she whipped past and killed, and thus gained a most decided victory.

The WATERLOO PLATE of 145*l.*, taken from the Cup Stakes, for the 16 dogs beaten in the first ties of the Cup; winner 75*l.*, second 30*l.*, two dogs 10*l.* each, four dogs 5*l.* each; total, 145*l.*

Second Round.

Macpherson beat Trapper (1).
Arquebus beat Snuffbox.
Dodger beat Promotion.
Handicraftsman beat Waterfall.

Macpherson led his opponent a good two lengths, and quickly put an end to a short course with a good kill. Arquebus went round Snuffbox for the first turn, and continuing to show pace won fully three parts of a tremendous gruveller. In a nice stretch Dodger raced away fully three lengths from Promotion, and coming well round picked Puss up in grand style. Handicraftsman led, and was always in front.

Third Round.

Macpherson beat Arquebus.
Dodger beat Handicraftsman.

Arquebus led, but was well beaten in a nice trial. Dodger had all the best of a nice working trial.

DECIDING COURSE.

E—Captain Ellis ns (Mr. N. Dunn's) rd The Dodger, by Fugitive—Ellen Johnson, beat
S—Mr. F. Gibson ns (Mr. A. Coke) be d Macpherson by Master Sam—Annie Macpherson.

And won the Plate.

The Dodger led up a couple of lengths, and won a short course very cleverly.

The WATERLOO PURSE of 215*l.*, taken from the Cup Stakes, for the 32 dogs beaten in the first round of the Cup; winner 75*l.*, second 30*l.*, two dogs 15*l.* each, four dogs 10*l.* each, eight dogs 5*l.* each; total, 215*l.*

Third Round.

Dulas beat Woodreeve.
Memnon beat Bird of Promise.
Sapper beat Dalcardo.
Mentor ran a bye, Cedric drawn.

Dulas led two lengths, and went round with Puss, and soon picked her up, winning easily. Bird of Promise was led and well beaten in a short spin, the winner finishing up with the Dalcardo led, and had a strong beginning, but in a long spin he compounded, and Sapper won easily.

Fourth Round.

Memnon beat Dulas.
Sapper beat Cedric.

Memnon led two or three lengths and went in for some good points before Dulas got placed. A lot of exchanges resulted, but in the racing stretches Memnon always had the advantage, and was a good winner when the hare was killed. Sapper led up a couple of lengths and won well.

E—Mr. C. E. Marfleet ns bk w d Memnon (late Sir Richard), by Caliph—Polly,

And won the Purse.
